Been in Colorado since 2004. Started donating blood getting inspired by the community people when they started having blood donation events.

After I started serving the organization as State Co-Ordinator, I started coordinating all Nepalese organizations of Colorado and goaled to have blood donation every month. Before Covid-19 we organized almost one blood donations event every month and were able to have at least more than 200 people in the system.

The feeling I get after donating blood, and getting text from the Vitalant saying “Your Blood has been sent for a patient” gives me the purpose of my life. I really love helping people, saving life and donating more. My wife works in the health sector, and we both donate blood together which makes me very happy.
